

Contents

I. Introduction

II. The Pragmatic Naturalism of Dewey and Buchler

1. Dewey on Practice, Cognition, and Truth
2. Buchler's Theory of Judgment: an Attempt at Improving Dewey's Theory of Experience

III. Positioning Pragmatic Naturalism and Philosophical Hermeneutics

3. Positioning Buchlerian Naturalism and Gadamerian Hermeneutics along the Issues of Scientific Inquiry and Art
4. Overcoming Modern Subjectivism. A Genealogy of the Discussed Non-representationalist Paradigms of Thought
5. Heidegger's Idea of Ontological Difference and Buchler's Notion of Nature

IV. Truth and Event

6. Medial Events, Middle Voice, and Philosophical Hermeneutics
7. Epistemological Consequences: Truth, Justification, Event, Interpretation

Bibliography